Mazafati Dates

Mazafati dates are large, fleshy, and dark in color, with a delicious flavor that lives up to their reputation. The moisture content of this product varies between 15% to 30%, largely influenced by factors such as the growing region, harvest time, and yield. The most flavorful and premium Mazafati dates in the world are produced in southeastern Iran, in the cities of Bam, Jiroft, Saravan, Rigan, Ghanbaki, and Narmashir, with an annual capacity of around 120,000 tons.

Rabbi Dates

Rabbi dates, with their dark brown color and long shelf life, are among the semi-dry dates with less than 15% moisture content, making them one of the tastiest types of dates. This type of date is considered the highest quality, grown in Sistan and Baluchestan province, as well as in the cities of Jiroft, Anbarabad, Kahnuj, and Golshan. Rabbi dates are the earliest-ripening dates in Iran, with a sweetness lower than that of Mazafati dates, making them suitable for those who prefer moderately sweet dates. This product remains fresh at room temperature for 12 to 18 months.

Kabkab Dates

Kabkab dates are a type of date grown in Iran. The fruit is yellow during the Khalal stage and light brown to dark brown when fully ripened. It is mostly consumed as Rutab (semi-dry dates) and fully ripe dates. Annually, over 1.4 million tons of Kabkab dates are harvested from the groves of Dashtestan. These dates are considered moist and are one of the most abundant varieties in Bushehr province, as well as in the cities of Bafq, Khisht, and Kamarj in Kazerun, and Dashtestan (Shahr Ab Pakhsh and Saad Abad).

Khasouei Dates

Khasouei dates, with their light brown to golden color, are known for their wrinkled appearance and skin texture resembling small okra, making them one of the most popular and high-quality dates. In addition to their nutritional benefits, Khasouei dates also possess medicinal properties. The best variety of this date is cultivated in Hormozgan, Fars, and Bushehr provinces.

Zahedi Dates

Zahedi dates, with an elongated oval shape and a pointed tip, are light brown during the Rutab stage and reddish-brown to pale yellow when fully ripened. These dates are classified as dry dates, with low moisture content and a long shelf life of up to 3 years, making refrigeration unnecessary. The best Zahedi dates are grown in Qir and Karzin in Fars province and Faryab in Bushehr province.

Piarom Dates

Piarom dates are a type of dry and semi-dry date known for their distinctive appearance, excellent taste, long shelf life, and reputation in global markets. These dates, often referred to as "chocolate dates" due to their unique flavor and fleshy texture, have the highest sugar content among date varieties. However, since the sugar in Piarom dates is primarily fructose, they also aid in metabolism. Piarom dates thrive in dry and mountainous areas, with the largest percentage of Piarom groves located in Hajiabad, Hormozgan province.

Date Syrup

Date syrup, with its dark color and sweet, pleasant taste, is a traditional and healthy date product that has been used worldwide as a rich source of energy and nutrients for centuries. This natural product from the renowned Kia brand is made traditionally, without additives, and is used in traditional medicine to treat various ailments while boosting overall health.

Date Seed Oil

Date seed oil is one of the most valuable vegetable oils globally, extracted through complex processes using specialized industrial equipment. Kia's date seed oil is a reddish-yellow, essence-free oil that is produced and offered in various volumes and special packaging. This light-textured oil is easily absorbed by the skin and is used to heal wounds quickly, reduce the effects of sunburn, repair skin and hair, retain moisture in hair shafts, and prevent dryness.

Date Seed Coffee

Ground date seeds resemble coffee in appearance and taste, but without any caffeine. To prepare this coffee-like product, date seeds are roasted in an oven to intensify their flavor and aroma, and then immediately ground. This popular product from the Kia brand is an attractive option for those who enjoy energy-boosting and unique flavors.

Date Chips

Date chips are not only delicious but also highly nutritious. Made without added sugar or artificial spices, they are a healthy and tasty option for those seeking nutritious snacks. Date chips are rich in nutrients and are ideal for use with tea as a sugar substitute, as well as for baking cakes and desserts.

Beautiful and high-quality packaging is one of the key factors behind Kia's success in global markets. These packages not only preserve the freshness and quality of the product but also enhance the beauty and prestige of Kia's products, making them more appealing to their special customers. If you're looking for high-quality, delicious dates and date products produced to international standards, Kia's products are the best choice for you.
